Hi Musiversal Inc.,

I found your job posting on Indeed for a Mixing Engineer in SE Asia and did some research to find that Musiversal is truly innovative and exciting.

I'm organizing my own record label with projections to develop my brand with select music creators in the next year. Prior to any progress happening towards my creative pursuit, I would like to join your company with a proposal. I would be delighted to fill the position with a salary of $30k (USD) on a one year contract while working from Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. This would allow all parties involved to see if I would be a good fit with Musiversal. I am available to start right away with a nominal advance of 10% from my salary.

As a creator of art, I know how fun it is to network and collaborate from friends in the US and from peeping around on social media to see what other creators are up to. I haven't taken steps to work with other creators because it was only after releasing We Got Time in August of this year that I felt confident in my abilities to improvise and understand the production process. Receiving feedback and mentorship from experienced producers and engineers would be a blessing.

Thank you for reading this letter and creating the opportunity for all of this to happen. You are welcome to connect with me by any method on my resume.

Sincerely,

Ana Keola
